

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

OPINIONS.

APPENDIX.

OPINIONS OF THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

REWARDS. WHEN OFFICERS ENTITLED TO.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., January 6, 1903.

To His Excellency, Charles B. Aycock, Governor.

DEAR SIR:-I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 3d instant, with enclosures in the matter of the application of Mr. J. E. Reed for the reward offered by your Excellency for the apprehension and delivery of W. M. L. Creasman to the proper authorities of the county of Buncombe. Replying thereto, I beg to submit the following: Mr. Reed, the applicant, is now sheriff of Buncombe County, but in his affidavit which accompanies the papers submitted he alleges that "before his qualification as sheriff deponent had succeeded, at considerable expense to himself, in locating the fugitive in the city of Decatur, State of Illinois." If Mr. Reed had conducted this investigation which led to the apprehension of the fugitive after his induction into the office of sheriff of Buncombe County, 1 would have no hesitation in declaring that, in my opinion, he would not be entitled to participate in the reward. With reference to the law authorizing rewards to be offered, Chief Justice Pearson, in Malpass v. Caldwell, 70 N. C., 130, says: "The policy of the statute * * * is to call in volunteers by the offer of a bounty." And in Ex-parte Gore, 57 Miss., 251, the Supreme Court of that State says: "The reward offered * * * was designed to induce the arrest of fleeing homicides by persons not under an official obligation to do it."

It is difficult to conceive of a case in which a public officer who by virtue of his office becomes a conservator of the peace and whose duty it is to be prompt and vigilant in the apprehension of fleeing criminals can, with due regard to public policy, be permitted to participate in a reward. "The policy of law which has in view the safety of the community is said to be against it; and self-interest * * * will cause him to be indifferent and even remiss until prompted by what he himself may deem a sufficient offer." In a New York case the court, speaking of this proposition, says it is "fraught with every kind of mischief." In Kick v. Merry, 23 Mo., 72, the Supreme Court of that State says: "To permit an officer to stipulate for extra compensation for services to which the public was entitled would lead to great corruption and oppression in office. It would follow that whenever a crime was committed, instead of speedy efforts for the arrest of the offender there would be a holding back in the hope that there would be a reward given for his apprehension. If once the habit of taking a reward is introduced, nothing will be done unless the service is previously purchased by extra pay." And, in Lees v. Colgan, 120 Cal., 262, the Supreme Court of that State, citing this case, says: "This reasoning undoubtedly applies to rewards offered by the State as fully as rewards offered by private parties."

Throop on Public Officers, section 486, citing Day v. Townsend, 70 Iowa, 538, says in this case: "It has been held that a deputy sheriff is not entitled to compensation offered by an individual for procuring the return from another State of a fugitive from justice from his own State, where the statute fixed the compensation of a State agent employed for such a purpose and forbade any public officer from receiving any additional compensation for such services." The author adds, however, "But in the absence of such statutory provisions the contrary ruling has been made elsewhere on the ground that it was not the officer's duty to go out of the State to arrest a criminal."

The statutory provisions which limit the latter doctrine mentioned by Throop obtain in this State. Section 1169 of The Code authorizes the Governor to employ a special agent to pursue and apprehend a fugitive from justice charged with felony, and section 1170 provides the method of compensating the agent for his services. Section 2082 of The Code declares: "No sheriff shall demand, exact, take or receive any greater fee or reward whatsoever, nor shall have any allowance, reward or satisfaction from the public for any service by him done other than such sum as the court shall allow for ex officio services and the allowance given and provided by law."

It would be contrary to public policy and violative of well-established legal principle to permit an officer whose oath of office requires him to use his best abilities in the cause of justice to participate in a reward offered for the apprehension and conviction of a fugitive. I rest my opinion that the applicant in this case is entitled to the reward solely upon the ground that it appears from his affidavit filed that the services rendered by him, which culminated in the apprehension and return of the fugitive to this State, were performed before he assumed the functions of the office of sheriff of Buncombe County. I do not think that his induction into this office should deprive him of the reward practically earned before he assumed the duties and obligations imposed upon him by virtue of his position as sheriff of Buncombe County.

Respectfully.

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

TAXES DUE FROM INSOLVENTS, WHEN SHERIFF ENTITLED TO CREDIT FOR.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., January 9, 1903.

Hon, B. F. Dixon, State Auditor.

DEAR SIR:—In the matter of the application of John D. Kerr, Esq., of Clinton, attorney for J. M. Marshburn, ex-sheriff of Sampson County, for the refunding of certain moneys alleged to be due Mr. Marshburn on account of taxes paid into the State Treasury, I have the honor to submit the following:

Mr. Marshburn's claim for reimbursement consists of seven items, aggregating $530.57 and extending through a period of years from 1895 to 1900, during which time he was sheriff of the county of Sampson. I have given this matter careful consideration and have reached the conclusion that this claim cannot be allowed by your department except possibly as to two of the items.

Exhibits C, D and E, appearing in the papers submitted by Mr. Kerr, constitute the basis of his claim for the return of the sum of $399.05 on account of taxes accounted for by him and due from insolvent tax-payers, or those who had removed from the county, leaving no property out of which the taxes can be collected. Chapter 558, section 1, subsection 2, Public Laws of 1901, declares: "And no tax due from insolvents shall be credited to the sheriff in the settlement with the Auditor except such as shall be allowed by the board of commissioners, a list whereof containing the names and amounts, and subscribed by the sheriff, shall be returned by the sheriff to the board of commissioners. * * * Such list shall be recorded in the commissioners' docket and a copy shall be returned to the Auditor of the State on or before the day of the settlement of the sheriff with the Treasurer." It is to be specially noted that the law requires that the list of insolvents shall be returned to the Auditor "on or before the day of settlement with the Treasurer." (Section 94, chapter 7, Public Laws of 1901, fixes the time for the sheriff to settle the State taxes "on or before the second Monday in January in each year." In the same section it is provided that the State Treasurer may extend the time on a sufficient amount to cover the State taxes on land sales only in each county to the first Monday in May.) In Commissioners v. Wall, 117 N. C., 377, chapter 326, section 38, subsection 2, Acts 1891, which is identical with section 1, subsection 2, chapter 558, Public Laws 1901, was construed by the Supreme Court. In this case the sheriff and the sureties on his bond were sued, and the sheriff claimed a credit on account of his insolvent list of tax-payers, but the Court said: "The defendant, not having * had the allowance made him by the county commissioners for insolvents at the time and manner prescribed by law, cannot have them allowed to him now by the courts in an action for the balance due by him on the tax list." And we have seen that the time for having this allowance made is "on or before the day of settlement of the sheriff with the State Treasurer." In support of this view, see section 95, subsections 1, 2 and 3, chapter 7, Public Laws 1901. In Commissioners v. Wall, supra, the defendant contended that his tax books had been seized and placed in the hands of another party, and for that reason he had been unable to make out his insolvent list of tax-payers to which he would be entitled to credit in his settlement. But the Court said, in reply to this contention, that "The attachment of the tax books was subsequent to the time he should have settled the taxes and have had his insolvent list allowed, and can be no defense."

Exhibits A and B, amounting to $59.34, constitute Mr. Marshburn's claim for reimbursement on account of error and for other causes. The expression "and for other causes" is too indefinite to be considered in this connection; so the basis for the return of this amount must rest upon the "error" alleged to have been committed. In chapter 7, section 95, claim for error rests upon the same footing as the claim for insolvents, and I am therefore of the opinion that these two items cannot be allowed by your department.

Exhibits F and G, amounting to $72.18, represent Mr. Marshburn's claim for reimbursement for taxes accounted for on lands sold and purchased by the county. Section 40, chapter 58, Public Laws 1901, brought forward from machinery acts of preceding years, provides that "Whenever real estate is purchased by county commissioners or by city or town, the sheriff of the county wherein the real estate is situated shall not be obliged to account to the State Treasurer or to any person for the amount of taxes due until the county commissioners or city or town authorities have sold the certificate or certificates of purchase from the real estate sold." As far as I am able to see. it appears that Mr. Marshburn has complied with the provisions of the law in this particular, and I am of the opinion that it would be proper to return to him the sum of $72.18, this amount having been paid by him into the State Treasury, when the law did not require him to account for the same. The certificates of sale for these lands for taxes in Sampson County should be in the hands of the county commissioners, and may be disposed of and the State's part of these taxes returned to the State Treasurer.

I am strongly of the opinion that all claims for insolvents, uncollectables and errors should be presented to your department by the sheriffs or tax collectors of the various counties on or before the date fixed by law for the making of their settlements. Any other rule would encourage laxity in the collection of taxes, and, as was observed by the Supreme Court, in Commissioners v. Wall, supra,

"Public policy requires promptness in these settlements; otherwise both the county and State governments might become seriously embarrassed for lack of necessary funds." Whatever moral or equitable claim Mr. Marshburn may have for the return of these moneys to him from the State Treasury is a matter which addresses itself to the Legislature.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

ORGANIZATION TAX—CHARTERS GRANTED BY GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,

February 12, 1903.

HON. B. R. LACY, State Treasurer.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of yesterday's date, in which you ask my opinion in regard to the organization tax to be paid by parties applying to the General Assembly for charter of incorporation. Inasmuch as some confusion has arisen, I have given the matter a careful consideration, and beg to submit the following:

Section 696 of The Code provides that "Every bill introduced in either nouse of the General Assembly to incorporate any company * * * shall be accompanied by a receipt from the State Treasurer for $100," and by section 2004 of The Code the sum of $250 was required to be paid before any bill to incorporate a railroad company could be introduced. In 1885 both of the above sections of The Code, to-wit, sections 696 and 2004, were amended by striking out the words "one hundred dollars" in the former section and "two hundred and fifty dollars" in the latter, and inserting the words "twenty-five dollars," thus reducing the organization tax on all corporations, including railroads, to twenty-five dollars. Chapters 33 and 93, Laws 1885.

And by chapter 36 of the Laws of 1885, section 696 was further amended so as to provide that the $25 tax should not be necessary on "bills to amend any act where the business is unchanged." So, from 1885 to 1893 the tax required on all corporations was $25, and no tax on an amendment which did not change the nature of the business.

Section 5, chapter 318, Public Laws 1893, is in the following words: "Every bill introduced in either house of the General Assembly to incorporate any company, including railroad companies, shall be accompanied by a receipt from the State Treasurer for $50."

The effect of this law was to increase the organization tax on all corporations to $50, and does not purport to affect chapter 36 of the Laws of 1885, which provided that no tax should be necessary if the business should remain unchanged. It will be observed that in both the Acts of 1885 and 1893 railroad corporations were placed upon the same footing as all other corporations with reference to the amount of tax required. From these various acts of the General Assembly it would therefore seem clear that from 1893 to 1901 the organization tax on all corporations was $50, and amendments $25; and if the amendments did not change the nature of the business no tax was required. A confusion has arisen in regard to the proper interpretation of sections 96 and 97, chapter 2, Public Laws of North Carolina, session 1901. Section 97 is in the following words:

"Every bill introduced in either house of the General Assembly to incorporate any private corporation shall be accompanied by a receipt from the State Treasurer showing that there has been paid an organization tax in double the amount prescribed in the foregoing section, and in addition thereto each private corporation (railroad, insurance and banking companies excepted) shall, before organization, file and have recorded a copy of the bill creating it in the office of the Secretary of State, and shall thereupon become subject to the provisions of this act."

The similarity of this language to that of section 5, chapter 318, Laws 1893, shows that this section did not escape the attention of the framer of said section 97. The language of the latter section is plain: "Every bill * * * to incorporate any private corporations." In order to exclude railroad, insurance and banking companies from these taxing provisions we must reach the conclusion that they do not belong to that class of corporations designated as "private corporations." Such a conclusion is not sustained by the authorities. In the Dartmouth College case, 4 Wheaton, p. 518, the Supreme Court of the United States says: "Strictly speaking, public corporations are such only as are founded by the government for public purposes, where the whole interests belong also to the government." In Clark and Marshall on Private Corporations, Vol. I, section 31, it is said: "A public corporation is a corporation created merely for purposes of government, and a private corporation is one that is created for other purposes than those of government. To make a corporation public as distinguished from private, it must be founded by the government for public purposes and the whole interests must belong to the government."

In Elliott on Private Corporations, 2d Ed., section 7, the following language is used: "The term quasi public corporation is often used to designate a corporation properly classed as private, but which is engaged in a business of such a nature that the public has an interest therein, as grain elevators, railway, telegraph, telephone, gas and water companies. The private property which is devoted to such purposes becomes "affected with a public interest and ceases to be juris privati only," and may be controlled by the public for the public good to the extent of the interest thus created. But it is a misnomer to call such corporations quasi public corporations. A railway may be a quasi public highway, but the corporation is private."

A bank is not a public corporation even if it is a depository for public funds or if the State owns a part of the capital stock. Clark and Marshall, supra, section 31 (b). Neither is an insurance company. We must assume that the Legislature used the words "private corporations" in accordance with this well-defined legal classification. It is obvious that they were employed to distinguish these corporations from those of a public nature, such as the incorporation of cities and towns or of any corporation designed to exercise governmental functions and for which no organization fee should be charged.

After a very careful investigation, I am of the opinion that the proper interpretation of section 97, chapter 2, Laws 1901, is to require that every bill introduced in either house of the General Assembly to incorporate any corporation except that of a public character as herein defined, should be accompanied by a receipt from your department for an organization tax in double the amount as prescribed in section 96; and furthermore, that every private corporation incorporated by the General Assembly shall file a copy of the bill creating it in the office of the Secretary of State, except that this provision requiring a copy of the bill to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State does not apply to railroad, insurance and banking companies.

I understand that the General Assembly now in session has amended section 97, chapter 2, Public Laws of 1901, by inserting after the word "corporation" in line two the words "or to amend the charter thereof." If so, the tax on bills amending the charter of any private corporation will be in double the amount as prescribed in said section 96.

Respectfully.

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

PRIVILEGE TAX ON CORPORATIONS—CAPITAL STOCK—NON-TAXABLE BONDS.

Attorney-General's Department, Raleigh, N. C., February 16, 1903.

HON. B. R. LACY, State Treasurer.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of recent date, with enclosure of Mr. N. B. Rankin, president of the Wilmington Underwriters Insurance Company of Wilmington, N. C., requesting my opinion upon the matter submitted therein. I have given the same careful consideration and beg to submit the following:

By chapter 98, section 3, and chapter 138, section 5, Public Laws of North Carolina, session 1879, State bonds are exempt from taxation. This exemption, in my opinion, protects them from liability to taxation as property, but does not authorize the corporation to deduct them from its capital stock in order to determine the amount of its privilege tax.

The Supreme Court of the United States has held that where the tax imposed was upon the privilege of transacting the business as a corporation and not upon its property, the tax was not invalidated on account of the fact that a portion of the capital stock of the company was invested in United States securities which by law were exempt from taxation. Inasmuch as there is some contest in regard to this question, I beg to direct your attention to some of these cases.

In Society for Savings v. Coite, 6 Wallace, 594 it appeared that the Legislature of Connecticut in 1863 enacted that the savings banks in the State should make annual return of their deposits and pay a tax thereon equal to three-fourths of one per cent. The court held that this tax was a franchise tax and not a tax on property, and that in ascertaining the amount of the franchise tax the banks were not authorized to deduct the amount of their deposits invested in securities of the United States declared by Congrass to be exempt from taxation.

To the same effect are the following cases: Provident Institution v. Mass., 6 Wallace, 611; Hamilton Company v. Mass., Ib., 632.

In People v. Home Insurance Company, 92 N. Y., 328, a similar question arose and the Supreme Court of the State held that such taxes upon corporations are "taxes upon franchises, not upon property, and the fact that the dividends, a portion of which is derived from securities exempt from taxation, furnish the basis for computing the amount of the tax, does not invalidate it." This case was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States, and the judgment of the Supreme Court of New York was affirmed. See Home Insurance Company v. New York, 119 United States, 129. A motion was made for a rehearing and the case was re-argued on March 18 and 19, 1900, and the judgment again affirmed. 134 United States, 594. In this case the authorities showing the distinction between franchise and property taxes are collated and distinguished.

The tax involved in the case submitted by Mr. Rankin is a privilege tax as distinguished from an ad valorem tax on the property of his company, as has been expressly decided by the Supreme Court of our State. Wilmington Underwriters Company v. Steadman, 130 N. C., 251.

Upon the authority of the cases hereinbefore cited I have reached the conclusion that this corporation is not authorized to deduct the $25,000 of North Carolina bonds in computing the amount of the privilege tax, as held by your department, and should remit to you the sum of $63.50, which is admittedly due if the amount of the bonds is not to be deducted.

Notwithstanding the fact that this corporation has expressed its willingness to abide by my decision in this matter, I beg that you will forward a copy of the same to it, and if its counsel has any opposing views to submit I would be glad to take up the case with them.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

PUBLIC OFFICER—FORFEITURE OF OFFICE BY ACCEPTING ANOTHER.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., February 17, 1903.

Col. P. M. Pearsall, Private Secretary.

DEAR SIR:—In your letter of recent date I am requested to give my opinion as to "what effect the acceptance of the office of the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners has upon the holding of the office as a member of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb when both offices are held by the same person."

Replying thereto, I have the honor to submit the following:

Section 7, Article XIV of the Constitution of North Carolina, declares that "No person who shall hold any office or place of trust or profit under the United States or any department thereof, or under this State, or under any other State or government, shall hold or exercise any other office or place of trust or profit under the authority of this State or be eligible to a seat in either house of the General Assembly: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall extend to officers in the militia, justices of the peace, commissioners of public charities or commissioners for special purposes."

Speaking of this constitutional provision, Chief Justice Smith, in Doyle v. Raleigh, 89 N. C., 133, at p. 136, says: "The manifest intent is to prevent double office-holding." And Chief Justice Faircloth, in Barnhill v. Thompson, 122 N. C., 493, at p. 496, writing of the same section of the Constitution, observes that this "provision is plain and leaves no room for construction whenever the two places under consideration are found to be public offices." So the question arises, "Are the two places under consideration public offices?" The Supreme Court of the State has expressly decided "that the Directors of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb are officers." Nichols v. McKee, 68 N. C., 429; Walker v. Bledsoe, Ib., 457.

In Clark v. Stanley, 66 N. C., 59, it is said: "A public office is an agency for the State"; and in Barnhill v. Thompson, supra, it was held that a member of the County Board of Education is a public officer. So is a member of the Board of County Commissioners. Mechem on Public Officers, section 35.

"It is well settled that the acceptance of a second office of the kind prohibited operates ipso facto to absolutely vacate the first. His acceptance of the one was an absolute determination of his right to the other." Mechem. supra, section 429. And, as was observed in a New York case, the determination of his right to the former office is so complete that it leaves him "no shadow of title."

I am of the opinion, therefore, that the acceptance of the office of Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners by one holding the office of Director of the North Carolina School for the Deaf and Dumb absolutely vacates his right to the office as such director. The same doctrine applies to your second question relating to the member of the Board of Agriculture who has likewise been elected Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

LICENSE FOR OYSTER DREDGING-REVOCATION OF.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., April 6, 1903.

HON. W. M. WEBB, Oyster Commissioner.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 3d instant requests my opinion as to whether the act passed by the General Assembly at its recent session, making it unlawful to use scoops, scrapes or dredges in taking oysters from the natural oyster beds of this State between the 15th day of November and the 1st day of April, repeals that portion of section 14, chapter 250, Public Laws 1901, which permitted the use of such implements under a proper license, to the first day of May. Replying thereto, I have the honor to submit the following:

Section 2, chapter 11. Laws of North Carolina, session 1891, makes it "unlawful for any person or persons to take or catch oysters from any of the public grounds or natural oyster beds of North Carolina with any dredge, drag, scoop," etc.

By chapter 250, Public Laws of North Carolina, session 1901, this manner of taking or catching oysters from the waters therein indicated was permitted upon the issuance of a license in accordance with the provisions of section 7 et seq. of the said chapter, and by section 14 of the said chapter dredging was permitted to the first day of May. The act passed by the Legislature at its last session makes it unlawful to dredge after the first day of April.

The question presented is whether the licensee under the law of 1901, is authorized to continue to catch oysters by dredging, etc., until the first day of May. I am of the opinion that he cannot.

The preservation of fish and oysters in the streams and beds of the State is a proper function of the government in the exercise of its police power. Rea v. Hampton, 101 N. C., 51; State v. Connor, 107 N. C., 931; McCready v. State of Virginia, 94 U. S., 391.

In State v. Connor, supra, it is said: "The State has the right to impose such limitations and restrictions upon the mode and manner of taking oysters * * * in the navigable waters of the State as it may deem wise and just and conducive to the public good."

The license issued under the Act of 1901, allowing dredging, does not establish any contractual relation between the State of North Carolina and the licensee, but it is only a permission to do an act which, without such a license, would not be allowable.

It is well established that when a license is issued for the purpose of regulating a matter over which the Legislature has a plenary power in the exercise of governmental function, that such a license is not in any sense a contract, but a mere permit which may be revoked at any time or to which new conditions may be attached. Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, p. 341; Prentice on Police Powers, p. 286; Tiedeman on State and Federal Control of Persons and Property, Vol. I, p. 500.

In the case of Hess v. Muir, 65 Md., 586, the Supreme Court of that State held: "That the privilege of locating oyster lots has no elements of a grant by patent, but is simply a license. revocable at the pleasure of the Legislature."

The case under consideration is not one in which the State has vested in a party the exclusive right to use and occupy a particular oyster bed, marked and staked, so as to bring it within the rule of the inviolability of a grant, in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court in State v. Spencer, 114 N. C., 770.

It seems that under the authorities, as well as on principles of sound public policy, it must be decided that the license obtained no vested rights under the Act of 1901. This being so, it was competent for the Legislature to change the period allowed for dredging, and in making this change it must be assumed that that body acted in good faith for the public good. State v. Moore, 104 N. C., 714.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER,
Attorney-General.

INHERITANCE TAX-HOW COMPUTED.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,

RALEIGH, N. C., May 14, 1903.

Hon. B. F. Dixon, State Auditor.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of the 12th instant, enclosing papers in the matter of the inheritance tax due by Mr. J. T. Worthington, executor of S. M. Haurahan, late of the county of Pitt, and requesting my opinion thereon. In reply I beg to submit the following:

It appears that the whole amount to be distributed under the will was $4,960.80, and that there were two legatees or distributees, which would give to each the sum of $2,480.40. In determining the amount of the inheritance tax due, the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County deducted from each legacy the sum of $2,000 and assessed on each share as the tax the sum of $3.60, or on both the sum of $7.20. I do not think that this method of computation meets the requirements of the statute.

Section 6 of the Revenue Act of 1903 provides that "From and after the passage of this act all personal property of whatever kind and nature which shall pass by will or by the intestate laws of this State * * * shall be and is hereby made subject to a tax for the benefit of the State, as follows, that is to say: Where the whole amount of said legacy or distributive share of personal property shall exceed in value $2,000 the tax shall be," etc. Then follows five subdivisions providing for the amount to be paid "for each and every hundred dollars of the clear value of such interest," to be determined by the degree of a relationship which the party sustains to the person who died possessed of the property, seventy-five cents being assessed in those cases described in the first subdivision and to which class the legatees in the case under consideration belong."

In my opinion it was the purpose of the Legislature to exempt a legacy or distributive share from liability for the tax in all cases where the amount does not exceed $2,000, but if the legacy or distributive share exceeds that sum it is to be taxed to the full amount, and a deduction of $2,000 is not authorized. The tax should be imposed upon the entire legacy and not upon the excess after deducting the sum of $2,000.

A ruling similar to that made by the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County was made by the Surrogate of the County of Kings, State of New York, in the matter of the estate of Benjamin W. Sherwell, 125 N. Y., 376. The record in that case, at page 379, says: "The surrogate held that it was the intention of the Legislature that all taxable estates should be exempt from taxation to the extent of $500, and he therefore allowed a deduction from each of the legacies in question of that amount, leaving the balance for assessment for purposes of taxation under the act. The General Term reversed this decision, holding that the legislative intent was to limit the estates upon which the tax should be imposed." The Supreme Court of that State said: "We think their decision was clearly right. * * * If the inheritance, or the testamentary gift, amounts to five hundred dollars or more, then the act operates to create a liability in favor of the State to the extent mentioned; but if it is less, the act is wholly inoperative."

I have given the opinion of counsel careful consideration, but in examining the authorities I have reached the conclusion that his interpretation of the statute is not correct, and that the one placed upon it by your department is in consonance with the legislative purpose, and that the inheritance tax due the State in this case should be $37.20 instead of $7.20.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

TAXATION OF PROPERTY AWAITING TRANSPORTATION.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

November 17, 1903.

HON. B. R. LACY, State Treasurer.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of recent date containing a copy of a communication from Messrs. McLean, McLean & McCormick to Mr. F. H. Steadman, Sheriff of New Hanover County, in regard to the liability of the Standard Tie and Pole Company to pay a tax on certain cross-ties and juniper poles alleged to be in transit at the time they were listed for taxation, under protest, by said company.

From the letter to Mr. Steadman I gather the facts to be as follows: That these cross-ties and poles had been shipped by various parties up the Cape Fear river to the Standard Pole and Tie Company and were unloaded at some point in the city of Wilmington, and remained there until a sufficient quantity of certain sizes and grades had accumulated, and were then reloaded and reshipped to their final destination.

The liability of this property to taxation presents a question not entirely free from difficulty, but, after a careful investigation of the subject, I have reached the conclusion that it was properly listed for taxation and that the company is liable for the tax at the assessed valuation, $9.200.

As I understand the facts, the ties and poles were shipped from various points to Wilmington and awaited there for a convenient opportunity for their final transportation to their place of destination.

It was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States in Coe v. Errol, 116 U. S., 517, that logs cut at a place in New Hampshire, hauled down to the town of Errol on the Androscoggin river in that State, to be transported from thence up the river to Lewiston, Maine, and waited at Errol for a convenient opportunity for such transportation, were still part of the general mass of property of the State. and liable to taxation. In this opinion it is further said that: "When the products of the farm or forest are collected and brought in from the surrounding country to a town or station serving as an entrepot for that particular region, whether on a river or on a line of railroad, such products are not yet exports, nor are they in the process of exportation, nor is exportation begun until they are committed to the common carrier for transportation out of the State to the State of their destination, or have started on their ultimate passage to that State."

In Diamond Match Company v. Ontonagon, decided by the Supreme Court of the United States on January 19, 1903, a similar question arose. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Mr. Justice McKenna, and the case of Coe v. Errol supra, was largely quoted from and the doctrine of that case affirmed. In this case the Court recognized the doctrine that whenever a commodity has begun to move as an article of trade from one State to another, that interstate commerce has commenced. "But," continues the Court, "this movement does not begin until the articles have been shipped or started for transportation from one State to the other. The carrying of them in carts or other vehicles, or even floating them to the depot where the journey is to commence, is no part of that journey."

The ties and poles being "at rest" in the city of Wilmington on the first day of June, 1903, awaiting transportation to their ultimate destination, constituted property within the State and is liable to taxation.

I am of the opinion, therefore, as hereinbefore announced, that these ties and poles were properly listed, and that the taxing authorities of New Hanover County are authorized to collect the tax due thereon.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

LICENSE-WHEN TRANSFERABLE.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., January 20, 1904.

HON. B. R. LACY, State Treasurer.

DEAR SIR:—In the case of the assignment of the brokerage license from Asheville, N. C., I beg to say that I have given the matter careful consideration and beg to submit the following:

I will state that some time ago I gave your department an opinion to the effect that licenses issued under Schedule "B" of the Revenue Act were not transferable. This opinion must be construed to relate to those cases in which the license tax is imposed for the purposes of regulation by the State in the exercise of its police powers, e. g., licenses to sell liquor issued under section 66 and to peddlers under section 44. In both of these cases the personal qualifications or fitness of the licensee are to be determined by a body authorized by law to pass upon the same. The universal doctrine is that in such cases the license is personal to the licensee and cannot be transferred.

The license in question was not issued by the State in the exercise of its police power for the purpose of regulating the brokerage business, but was issued in the exercise of its taxing power in the same manner as a tax was imposed on an "emigrant agent" by the Acts of 1891, chapter 75. See State v. Moore, 113 N. C., p. 697. In the latter cases the general doctrine seems to be that, in the absence of any statutory provision to the contrary, the licenses are assignable. I do not find in the Revenue Act any section forbidding the transferance of license, so, in reaching the conclusion to which I have arrived, I have relied upon the general doctrine which I find laid down in the books. In many States the statute provides that licenses shall not be transferred, and such was the action of our General Assembly with reference to drummers, imposed by section 28, chapter 136, Laws of 1883, which expressly provides that licenses issued under that section should not be transferable.

My conclusion is, therefore, as hereinbefore indicated, that the license in this case is transferable.

This opinion is rendered with special reference to the facts in this case, and is limited to the same.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

QUALIFICATIONS PRESCRIBED IN SECTIONS 60-66 NOT APPLICABLE TO AGENCIES OF BREWERIES.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., January 21, 1904.

HON. B. R. LACY. State Treasurer.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter containing enclosure of * * * * , in which my opinion is asked in regard to certain sections of the Revenue Act, and the relation of the same to section 57 thereof imposing a tax on breweries and agencies of breweries.

The point directly involved is whether the qualification clause prescribed in section 66 of the said act relates to parties operating under the provisions of section 57. It is very clear that it does not. Sections 60 and 66 of the said act relate to the same subject-matter, and the qualification clause hereinbefore referred to appears in the latter section and is in the following language:

"No license shall be issued to any applicant under this section who is not a bona fide citizen of the United States and a legal voter of North Carolina." It thus appears that, by the express provisions of this section, the qualifications recited only obtain in those cases in which the party operates under section 66. Indeed, the language of the statute is so plain that there is no room for construction or interpretation.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

TAX ON DEALERS IN PIANOS AND ORGANS.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
RALEIGH. N. C., February 8, 1904.

Hon. B. R. Lacy, State Treasurer.

DEAR SIR:—Replying to your letter containing enclosure of * * * in regard to the tax on dealers in pianos and organs under section 70 of the Revenue Act of 1903, I beg to submit the following:

The said section provides that: "Every person, firm or corporation selling pianos or organs in this State shall pay an annual license tax to the Treasurer of $40," and, in addition thereto, a tax of forty cents on every one hundred dollars received from the sale of pianos or organs.

I am of the opinion that if the manufacturer has paid the tax prescribed by said section, and has a place of business in North Carolina, and employs agents to represent him, that is, the manufacturer, in the sale of pianos or organs, the agent of the manufacturer will be protected by the duplicate license for each county, issued to him as the agent of his principal; but if a party purchases pianos directly from the manufacturer, and establishes an agency of his own within the State, and desires to send out agents, he will have to take out a State license himself under the said section, and his will be protected by a duplicate license.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.

TAX ON DEALERS AND PARTIES ENGAGED IN PUTTING UP LIGHTNING-RODS.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, RALEIGH, N. C., April 14, 1904.

HON. B. R. LACY, State Treasurer.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of this date containing a letter of * * * attorneys for the Sheriff of Duplin County, in regard to the liability of the salesman of * * * to pay a license tax under section 47 of the Revenue Act.

Replying thereto, I beg to advise you that I am of the opinion that that portion of the said section which may be construed as an effort to tax the business of selling lightning-rods in this State cannot be enforced if the lightning-rods are manufactured out of the State, and the business of the salesman is limited to the solicitation of persons to purchase, and in consequence of these negotiations the lightning-rods are sold and shipped to the purchaser within North Carolina.

Section 47, however, imposes a tax upon every person or company who puts up lightning-rods. This is essentially a tax upon a business which is purely domestic, and which contains no features of an interstate commerce transaction. The language of the Supreme Court in the case of State v. Gorham, 115 N. C., 721, at p. 728, is applicable: "The sale and delivery of the article is not inseparable from the erection of it, any more than the shoeing of horses is from their importation into the State, or the shipping here of wheat is from its sowing in the fields."

My view is simply this, that if the company solicits orders for lightning-rods to be afterwards delivered, the business is interstate commerce and falls within the Caldwell case referred to in the letter of Messrs. Stevens, Beasley & Weeks, but if the company is engaged in the business of putting up lightning-rods in this State, the business is domestic in its character and falls within Graham's case, supra, and the case of Lacy v. Armour Packing Company, decided at the present term of our Supreme Court.

Respectfully,

ROBT. D. GILMER, Attorney-General.
